re reply

Dear Sir,
I trust you will not mind my asking you to be so good as to do me a small service in the matter of tracing the whereabouts of my mother, Rosa Lichkieskie whose last address was "Radzowie, Gubt Warszawa," and from whom I have had no tidings since the outbreak of the war. As she is in poor circumstances, I, her only son, have been in the habit of supporting her in the form of monthly remittances. The last two remittances were sent after the outbreak of the war and within of those were acknowledgments as usual. Under the circumstances I fear that she is not in a position to communicate with me, but I feel confident that

By the means of your good office the whole matter can be cleared up. It is possible that some expense will be incurred in tracing her and for that purpose I take the liberty of enclosing £1.

I am at the same time enclosing a letter to her, written in German, which I desire to reach ^{you} in the manner you may deem expedient, and I am sure you would greatly appreciate a reply from her.

Wishing you the Compliments of the Season

Yours sincerely

A. Jacobs

N.B. Lichtbueche is my mother's second husband.
