Professor D. Simonsen.
Copenhagen.

Dear Sir & Friend,

Your valued lines received, for which excuse my apparent neglect for not answering before, but was sick and unable to do so. I hope you were able to go and see my poor Daughter and give me some good reports of her. my heart yearns for her health. Oh God can do much, and pray in His mercy will restore her to perfect health. Hope you are in the best of health, also your dear Wife. Enclosed Colonial Bank Draft on your City for $128 which I send you as customary, regretting not being able to do more. I am too pleased to hear she is well-treated, poor unfortunate girl. I must submit to His will. My dear Father's best regards to you and your esteemed Wife, and if able will write you a few lines. He has been quite unwell these last months, but a man of 88 years cannot be otherwise. You must conclude again asking for excuse for my silence, owing to illness. With reiterated expressions of thanks and good wishes for your continued good health, and with kindest greetings to your dear Wife and Self and hoping soon to hear from you again.

I am yours sincerely
Grace C. DeWalt
