The Secretary,

Copenhagen Jewish Congregation, Denmark.

Dear Sir,

In connection with the appeal of our Committee for an increased support for the Jewish Encyclopedia we venture to write to you as a subscriber for the work, in the hope that you may find it possible to still further co-operate with us towards the desired end.

We believe if every present subscriber for the Jewish Encyclopedia would write to likely friends or institutions who are not as yet subscribers for the work, that the present list of patrons, as enclosed herewith, might be doubled; and it is just this personal service which we now venture to ask you to render, as has been generously volunteered already by numbers of the subscribers. You are of course aware that such a personal canvass for support is the most effective one, and we hope that you have long ago realized the great service which is rendered to the Jewish race by the publication of this monumental and enlightening work, so that you can confidently recommend it to others.

That you may not have any further trouble beyond writing a few notes and addressing the envelopes, all of the required explanatory matter is herewith enclosed, and more will be gladly supplied upon request. We should be glad if you would send us the addresses of the persons to whom you write, if convenient.

With thanks in anticipation of your kind co-operation,

Yours faithfully,
